thanks for not getting any answer. I will not work a single minute longer.

dear joe, dear nato

under no circumstances we can open the show in time, as i and michele told you several times in meetings repeatedly since a very long time. we cannot get the three weeks back that were lost due to several fuck ups within the museums logistic and curatorial management. i am not responsible for this major delays.

two weeks before the opening it is the very last date that you have to finally realize that the show will not be finished in time. you definitely have to announce and accept this fact. i haven't had really a minute to work on the interior dressing and details of the show. how can you expect then that we finish this show? there is tons of stuff missing included four major structural parts of the show.

the announcement i propose would be:

Due to several complications within museum logistics the solo exhibition of Christoph Buchel at MASS MOCA will be postponed until

BUC00001992

early 2007. An exact opening date will be announced after the New Year.

I am sorry to say but even i didn't inform my crew, they know and feel from their experience and professional background that the show will not be finished.

the very earliest date for me would be the 3rd of march.

were there any invites printed and sent out yet?

my crew and i will continue to work as hard as we can until the 16th of december as previewed. i will leave the 17th.

best

christoph
